THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXII.

WHEAT'S GUILT

WILL GET HIM INTO MORE TROUBLE YET, THE LAW IN THE CASE STATED.

Some Congressmen of the Opinion that the Thieving Postmaster Should Be Made to Pay the Full Penalty.

WASHINGTON, October 6.—[Special.]— Postmaster Wheat is not out of his difficulty Certain members of congress do not yet. Certain members of congress do not think it enough punishment for a thief simply to relieve him of his job, so to speak. They think he should be punished just as any other thief would be punished.

There is a law that applies to Wheat's case. It provides that any officer of the government who receives any consideration for procuring, or aiding to proceure any government con-tract, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be imprisoned not more than two sears and fined not more than $10,000. Wheat let a contract to Culberson for the carrying of the house mails, on the agreement that he (Wheat), was to receive $150 a month out of the payment made by the United States to the contractor. The case has been laid before the district attorney, and it is not improbable that Wheat will be prosecuted criminally. In that event Wheat will either have to go in search of Silcott or spend his vacation in the nenitentiary.

Republican tariff kickers are turning up every day. They come largely from the west. The western farmers are kicking in genuine Kilgore style about the duty on binding twine, while the Michigan furniture and trunk mannfacturers are kicking vigorously about the increase of duty in Irish linen, for lining tunks, in tin, for covering trunks, not a pound of which is produced in this country, and in German looking glasses. The trunk men say the prices of trunks will be increased 25 to 30 per cent, while the furniture men say looking glasses will now cost 50 per cent more than

The increase in price will simply lessen the consumption of the articles increased and will therefore injure the manufacturer, the operaive and the consumer.

The new tariff bill will hurt both in the south and west, and the chances are that it will cause a heavy republican loss, and conse-quent democratic gain, in the west.

During the session of congress just closed President Harrison vetoed a dozen bills and pocketed eleven. That is, he failed to either approve or veto eleven bills sent him the last few days of the session, and consequently they failed to become laws. Mr. Cleveland never took advantage of the pocketing process, but as a veto artist he has never been equalled. During the first session of congress after his inauguration he vetod 113 bills, and kept it up at this rate during his entire term.

There was much kicking among the members of the house during the past session, on account of lack of what they consider necessary perquisites.

The members want clerks. They say they are as much entitled to them as the senators. yet the majority of them have not the nerve to rote for such a bill. They also want the privilege of franking their letters. It costs the average member $1 a day for stamps, and the average senator over twice that amount. Yet neither house has the nerve to pass a bill providing for franking let-

As it is now, representatives get, besides salaries of $5,000, $125 for stationery, and mileage to the amount of 20 cents a mile each way from their homes to Washington. ort will be made at the next !

to pass a bill providing for a clerk to each member, but the chances are it will fail.

Washington without congress is as dull as Florida without the Yankee.

When congress is here everything is on the cush: the hotels and boarding houses are crowded, the cabs are rushing in every direction, the street cars are packed and jammed, the theaters are filled, and everything booms. When congress goes the hotels are practically deserted. the cabs are principally stationary in the regular stands, the car horses become lazy and drag along slowly half filled cars, while theaters only do a moderate business.

With congress in session the hotels and boarding houses reap a harvest, not only the congressmen, their families, and friends are here, but the comm clerks, doorkeepers and hundreds committee capitol employes who draw fat salaries are here with their families. Then there is the horde of office seekers, who are here with each and every congress. But the juiciest plums of all for the hotels are the thousands of delega-tions that come to Washington to appear before committees or look after legislation for their cities or sections. These crowds-especially those interested in tariff and river and harbor bills-come with their pockets filled to overflowing with crisp notes, and they spend it promiscuously—almost wildly. Washin ton has none of this now. Indeed, there is Washingdead calm here.

South Carolinians in Washington say that the Tillmanites will not oppose Senator Hampton's re-election to the senate.

Senator Hampton is a friend of the Tillmans -both the congressman and the next gov-ernor—and it seems quite straight that both will advise their friends in the legislature to allow the veteran another term.

Senator Hampton is seventy-two years of age, although yet vigorous and active. To see ack one would not judge him to be more than fifty. Indeed, although one of his legs is of cork, he rides better than most men of half his years.

As a statesman he has never cut much of a figure in the senate, but as a senator working

Senator Hampton, like Senator Brown, has been remarkably successful in the local measures he has advocated, and in that way he has been more useful to his state that a more eloquent orator or greater statesman would have sonal friend. Therefore, he has no trouble in securing all the necessary votes to past any measure in which the palmetto state is inter-

Congressman Moore, of Texas, told a good story on Colonei Constantine Buckley Kilgore, the democratic congressional kicker, the other

"Kilgore went into the confederate army as a private," said he. "The colonel of his regiment and he were great friends, and one day that a number of distinguished visitorsamong them the governor of Texus-were to dine in camp, Buck took a gun and went out in search of game. He came back with three fine turkeys. They were prepared for dinner and eaten with a decided relish. In the midst of the dining a farmer living mearby came into camp to report that the soldiers had been stealing his turkeys. Immediately the colonel looked suspiciously at Kilgore and asked if the turkeys they were eating were wild turkeys and where he had killed them.

"Yes, sir, they were wild turkeys," replied Kilgore with much indignation. "If they hadn't been wild I would have gotten a half dozen. Why, sir, they were so wild that all the others run under the house."

CRISP FOR THE SENATE. "You have no idea how the suggestion of Crisp for the senate has taken in Georgia," said a well-known Atlantian, who came in today. "People are talking about him all over the state, and unless he puts a damper on the enthusiasm by coming out in an emphatic statement that he does not want it, you will find that Charles F. Crisp will be Joe Brown's successor. Alliancemen are as enthusiastic for him as non-alliancemen, and I believe his candidacy and consequent election would heal the breach in the state and bring about harmony. The fact that he is not a candidate, ambitiously looking to the speakership of the next house, makes him strong. Yes, I believe Crisp will be senator if he wants it."

THE MOVEMENTS OF MR. BLAINE.
Secretary Blaine has declined, on account o his pressing duties here, to take part in the congressional campaign in Ohio. Major Mc-Kinley wanted the Maine man to make a speech in his district. It is printed here today that he will not go to Atlanta. However, the chances are that he will, as the president will return in time for him to make the trip during the last week of the exposition.

Mr. Hemphill and a party of Georgians called at the state department this morning, but missed Mr. Blaine. They, however, feel quite well assured that he can be prevailed upon when the president returns, to go to At-lanta, especially as he seems very anxious to

CAPTAIN BARRIER'S DEATH

Which is Accompanied by a Strange Coincidence.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., October 6.—[Special.]—
Captain W. A. Barrier, for sixteen years principal of the Macon school here, and one of the best known educators in the south, died at 7:20 o'clock tonight of paralysis of the bowels. Captain Barrier had not been sick quite two weeks, and in his death tonight there is a remarkable conincidence. He was unmarried, and has for years boarded with Mrs. McLeod here. Little Willie Cuthberson, a bright lad of nino years and a grand son of Mrs. McLeod, lived with her, and he was particularly fond of Captain Barrier, and was one of the young pupils of his school. Captain Barrier having no family of his own, naturally became very tenderly attached to this child. When Captain Barrier left school week before last, to take his bed, Little Willie began to complain and followed him. The little fellow is now dead and Captain Barrier's remains will be interred cidence. and Captain Barrier's remains will be interred tomorrow. He was fifty-four years old, and in good circumstances, Covington's Republican Mayor. Covington's Republican Mayor.

CINCINNATI, October 6.—The election in Covington, Ky., was conducted by a plan similar to the Australian system. Hitherto method voting has been viva vece. The result was the election of Mayor J. T. Thomas, republicans also elected city weigher, three of five aldermen, five of ten councilmen and five of ten members of the school board. The democrats elected the assessor. This is the first republican mayor in twenty-five years.

Purchase of Bonds and Silver.

Washington, October 6.—The amount of silver offered for sale to the treasury department today was 780,000 ounces, and the amount purchased was 300,000 ounces, as follows: 100,000 at $1.1225, 50,000 at $1.1233. Prepayments of interest on government bonds Friday were $157,699 and Saturday $57,188, making the total to date $10,812,355.

New York, October 6.—Cotton futues advanced from two to four points and closed dull. The market developed some strength of its own. Liverpool showed a little change, but it is steadier. Its closing in the face of large receipts at our ports, was not lost upon parties who were short and orders to cover were the result. Then we had ramors and conjectures regarding forthcoming bureau reports. The bulls were quite certain it will be the worst we have had in October for many years. One leading bear said this was probable and that we have the largest crop ever grown, but the largest crop won't do, we must have the largest at the rate that Lancashire and New England have been taking cotton. MEETING THE PEOPLE. BECEPTION TO THE COUNT OF PARIS
IN PHILADELPHIA.

ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 7, 1890.—TEN PAGES.

THOUSANDS SHAKE HIS HAND. The Union League Club Rooms Crowded with Distinguished People - The Count at McClellan's Grave.

NEW YORK, October 6.-The Comte de Pari s left New York this morning on the Chicago limited, via the Pennsylvania railread, from Jersey City, at 10:23 o'c'ock. He was accompanied by his suite and the following committee from the Philadelphia com-mandery: Colonel John P. Nicholson, General Gregg, Colonel Goodman, Colonel George Meade and Henry T. Coates. Others with the party are General O. O. Howard, General Daniel Butterfield, General Martin T. McMahen, General Connor, Lieutenant Leach and General Abner Doubleday, one of the corps commanders of the army of the Potomac. The car of President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania railroad, was attached to the Chicago limited railroad, was attached to the Chicago limited and placed at the disposal of the party. The Comte de Paris expressed his delight and sincere appreciation of the kindly welcome he had met with in New York. General Butterfield said the comte seemed to be enjoying himself like a schoolboy out on a lark.

This evening the Loyal Legion, of Philadelphia, will give a reception to the party at the Union League club. It is the intention of the Comte de Paris while visiting old battle fields in the south to visit the manufacturing districts to collect data for a book upon the condition of the mechanical classes in this country.

ARRIVAL IN PHILADELPHIA.

ARRIVAL IN PHILADELPHIA. PHILADELPHIA, October 6.—The Comte de Paris and party arrived here at 2 o'clock from Trenton. In pursuance of arrangements made by the committee of the Loyal Legion, whose by the committee of the Loyal Legion, whose guest the comte and party will be white in this city, the gentlemen were conducted to the city hall. Here Mayor Fitler, presidents of the select and common councils, heads of departments of the municipal government, and a number of prominent citizens were in waiting in the mayor's office.

The comte was introduced to Mayor Fitler by Govern Green. The counter the introduced to the party of the counter th by General Gregg. The comte then intro-duced the rest of the party to the mayor. After the ceremony of introduction was over, Mayor Fitler, in a brief speech, welcomed the Comte de Paris to Philadelphia. Upon con-clusion of the mayor's address, President Smith, of the select council, read to the comte a series of resolutions passed by the council, referring to the comte's services as an aide on General McClellan's staff and bidding him a cordial welcome.

The reply the Comte de Paris said:

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I accept the freedom of this city. In my own behalf and that of all my family I accept it."

AT M'CLELLAN'S GRAVE.

While at Trenton the comte sent the follow ng despatch to Mrs. McClellan:

Deeply impressed by a visit to the grave of my beloved chief, I send you expressions of my sym-pathy and wishes for your welfare. After the interchange of courtesies at the mayor's office the visitors returned to the Pennsylvania railroad station where they boarded President Robert's private car, which was attached to the 3:45 train for Bryn Mawr, where they dined at Wootten, Mr. Child's country residence.

PLANTING TREES. It has been the custom of Mr. Childs to have all distinguished visitors to his country place plant a tree in commemoration of their visit and the Comte de Paris, Duc de Orleans and others of the party followed this custom. Each member of the party planted a different species of tree on the lawn at the back of the house The trees planted by the French visitors stand between those planted by Generals Grant and Sherman, and with those already planted by other guests, form quite a grove.

THE RECEPTION AT THE CLUB. The reception given by the Royal Legion of the Union League club tonight in honor of Comte de Paris was brilliant and splendid-Arrangements were made on a m nificent scale and the adornments were almost unequaled in elaborateness Tri-colored bunting hid the ceilings and walls. cut and potted flowers and evergreens were in every room and the stairway, and hundreds of red, white and blue electric flames lighted up the building and peeped from amid banks of palms and ferns. The corridors and rooms were filled with men of note in civil life and were filled with men of note in civil life and of distinction on the battle field. At 9 o'clock the reception committee of the Philadelphia commandery formed a line on each side of the doorway, and a few minutes later the comte entered on the arm of General Gregg, followed by the Duc de Orleans, escorted by George W. Childs, and the rest of the party. They were welcomed by Samuel B. Huey, and escorted to the library on the second floor, where a reception was held. One thousand guests were presented its the comte and Duc de Orleans. Occasionally in the line the comte would find some old friend with whom he had bivouacked on the peninsula, or struggled with in the swamps the peninsula, or struggled with in the swamp the peninsula, or struggled with in the swamps of the [Chickahominy. When such a one came along, he would grasp his hands in both of his, and while he shook them he would say a few pleasant words of reminiscences of old times. The Duc de Orleans went through the ordeal of handshaking, the most part in a perfunctory manner, but whenever he saw his father more than usually pleased in greeting some one his own face would light with a bright smile, and he would shake his hand as energetically as Among those who passed before the Comte de Paris and were presented to him were: General Daniel E. Sickles, of New York; General Parke, of Chicago, who commanded an army corps during the war; General Alexander Webb, who commanded the Philadelphia brigade that broke Pickett's Philadelphia brigade that broke Pickett's charge at Gettysburg; General Doubleday, General Lewis Merrill, Governor Biggs, of Delaware; and General Fitz John Porter. The Comte de Paris and party were then entertained at a banquet. The party will leave here tomorrow for Washington. Wednesday night the comte will leave for Richmond, where he will remain for three or four days, at the end of which time he will visit the scenes of battles in which he participated in Virginia.

IN A HURRY TO WED. The Haste of a Couple of North Carolina

DURHAM, N. C., October 6.—[Special.]— Two young men and a young lady, with her bonnet under her arm, drove into Greensboro few mornings ago all covered with mud. They did not stop until they reached the reg-ister's office, then hunted up a magistrate, and two of the party, John R. Brown and Dora G. two of the party, John R. Brown and Dora G. Wright, were soon man and wife. When asked if they were a run-away couple, they replied, "No, but we are in a hurry." Soon after the twain had been pronounced man and wife, a telegram came from their relatives in Randolph county, asking the chief of police to arrest the parties and prevent the marriage.

Celebration of "German Day." Celebration of "German Day,"

BALTIMORE, October 6.—"German Day," the anniversary of the first German settlement in America, at Germantown, Pa., was celebrated here today with enthusiasm. A steady downpour of rain marred the scenic effect and prevented much outdoor demonstration. The academy of music was filled with an audience in full sympathy with the celebration. The principal address of the day was by Colonel Frederic Paine, editor and proprietor of The German Correspondent. THE WOMAN WAS WRATHY,

And Used Her Revolver Upon Her Hus-Birmingham, Ala., October 6.—[Special.]—A pistol shot, a cry of pain, and a woman brandishing a smoking revelver, drew an immense crowd to the corner of Second avenue and Twenty-first street at 2 o'clock this after-

Edward T. Martin, president of the East Birmingham Land Company, and a member of the firm of Martin & Leedy, brokers, had been shot in the back and dangerously wounded by a dark-eyed young woman.

The woman plaims to be Mrs. Clarence D.
Martin, wife of a young brother of the man she shot. She was arrested and locked up, but refused to make any statement or give her reasons for shooting Martin. It was evident she meant to kill him, as she snapped the pistol twice, but it-failed to fire a second time. The ball entered Martin's back, near the spinal column, and ranged to one side, infleting a serious wound, but the physicians think he will recover.

Two years ago, Clarance D. Martin, brother

Two years ago, Clarance D. Martin, brother of the wounded man, went to Texas. Six months ago he returned here, and soon afterwards a young woman followed, and claimed that she was his wife. Martin left the city when the woman arrived, and his brother had an interview with her. The result of the interview was that the woman left the city, and did not return until a few days ago.

This morning she called on E. T. Martin, and it is thought demanded money. Again, at 2 o'clock, she met him at his office, and the two went out on the sidewalk, and talked a few moments. Martin turned and walked away, but had gone only a few steps when the woman opened a small bundle she carried, drew out a pistol, and fired. The woman is a small brunette, about thirty years old, and she claims that Clarence Martin married her in Texas two years ago, and deserted her soon afterwards. Nothing of her past history is known. E. T. Martin, the wounded man, is a wealthy and prominent citizen, thirty-five years old.

The woman who claims to be Mrs. Clarence a wealthy and prominent citizen, thirty-five years old.

The woman who claims to be Mrs. Clarence Martin, it is said, is named Julia Powers, and her home was in Macon, Ga. It is claimed that she followed young Martin to Texas several years ago, and they lived together awhile, but that they were ever married is denied. His brother, it seems, tried to keep him away from the woman, and she persisted in following him up, which resulted in the shooting today.

Mr. Martin is resting easy tonight, and the TWO ALABAMIANS IN TROUBLE.

They Are Arrested in New York on a Criminal Charge. NEW YORK, October 6.—Robert D. George nd James H. Hapley, two Alabamians, last night, at Grand Central depot, were arrested upon the complaint of a man giving his name as Eaton, charging them with having buncoed a green goods man. They were arraigned this afternoon in Yorkville court and held in $300 bail for carrying concealed weapons. Eaton, the complainant did not not in an the complainant, did not put in an appearance, though he promised to do so, Both prisoners are perfectly noncommittal, and have retained ex-Judge Murray to look after their interests. One thousand five hundred and seventy-four dollars found in their possession, by order of the court, was turned over to the property clerk. Their counsel fought hard to prevent this, claiming that his clients were held upon the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and not for taking money. The money was their personal property, and the court had no right to deprive them of it. He also urged that any man who carried about his per-son such large amounts was justified in having a pistol to protect himself from being robbed. The justice was firm, and said that after the charge against them had been disposed of they could begin a replevin suit for the recovery of the $1,574.

A PECULIAR SUICIDE. A Sleeping Car Passenger Hangs Him-CHARLESTON, S. C., October 6 .- [Special.]-

due here at 9:15 o'clock tonight. Soon after the train left Branchville, one of the passengers entered the toilet room of the coach He locked himself in, and remained there so long that some of the passen, gers and passengers called the conductor's attention to the fact. The conductor forced the door open, and found the man hanging by the neck dead. He had used one of his suspenders which he made fast to the ventilating tube near the ceiling. The body was cut down and brought to the city. On his person was found a card bearing the address, G. Schub, 1634, Hartford avenue, Baltimore, and about $115 in money. The suicide is about thirty years old, and weighs about two hundred pounds. Nobody could identify him.
The conducter says he boarded the train be-

In Which Two Newspaper Men Measure the Floor.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., October 6.—[Special.]— John C. Cooke, a well known newspaper man, who accompanied Dr. Kelly, prohibition canlidate for governor, on his recent canvass in East Tennessee, was knocked down tonight by Mr. Walter Cain, assistant editor of The American. The trouble grew out of a contro-

American. The trouble grew out of a controversey between the gentlemen as to the exact words used by Dr. Kelly in a speech at Jasper, which both of them heard, and referring to Dr. Kelly's having fought on the confederate side during the late war. Mr. Cooke was struck with a walking cane and rendered unconscious, but is not thought to be seriously injured. Conner Escaped.

Charlotte, N. C., October 6.—[Special.]
Considerable excitement was occasioned by the report of a pistol at a church near Huntersville, about thirteen miles from Charlotte. A large congregation was gathered in the country church. James Conner was the one that did the shooting, and Jonas Little was the victim. Little was badly wounded in the shoulder, and had his ear cut off, and several ugly gashes in his leg. Conner escaped.

It Was Carbolic Acid. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., October 6.—[Special.]
A fatal case of poisoning is reported from Cennes. John Sanderson, a wealthy and highly respected citizen of that place, yesterday, secured from a dark closet a flash, which he supposed contained whisky, and out of which he drank a small quantity. The fluid proved to be carbolic acid, and the dose soon caused his death.

Who Owns the Right-of-Way?

Balbid, N. C., October 6.—[Special.]
Several lawyers left here today for Pittsboro, where before Judge Machae, an important case will be argued. It involves the question as to who owns the right-of-way through Durham, the town or the Richmond and Danville railway. Before there was a town the railway owned the right-of-way, but the fown claims that after the place was built, the railway relinquished its claims. The space on either side has for years been used as streets.

THE LATEST FAD OF CHICAGO GIRLS. They Object to Being Vaccinated on the

Arm Because the Scar will Not Wear Well with an Evening Dress. CHICAGO, October 6.-Dr. Garrett, senior of the corps of medical inspectors in the health office, this morning received this notice from his superior officer, Health Commis Hereafter the medical inspector of this department will vaccinate no one on the leg, without special instructions from the commissioner, "It could not be helped," said Dr. Wickersham. "The mania for this things has passed all bounds. Fashion has grown beyond the bounds of reason, and this partment will recognize it longer. Saturday afternoon one crowd of six girls, two of them young ladies, came here to be vaccinated. They told the inspector that they wanted the operation performed on their legs.

"We don't want to disfigure our arms," was their excuse.

"The girls were vaccinated as they desired.
But that's the last," said the dector, bringing his fist down on the table.

"I want no more of them and won't bea them. If any girl is so fashionable that she is afraid a vaccination mark will detract from her beauty in an evening dress, she had better go to a private physician. The old-fashioned way is good enough for this office and that's what the young ladies must put up with. You have no idea of the number of applicants for this sort of thing lately. I believe it is a fad nothing more.'

THE SCHOOL WAS MIXED, In Consequence of Which Miss Annie Young

DURHAM, N. C., October 6.—[Special.]— Miss Annie Young, a very intelligent young lady of Henderson, went to Trenton, New Jersey, to teach. After passing a most creditable examination before the state normal school, she was assigned a position. When she went into her classroom she was shocked to find her pupils were a mixture of whites and blacks. She deliberately walked out and gave in her resignation. She left immediately for Stuarts, Va., where she has a very pleasant position that is more in harmony with her refined feelings. The Opelika Waterworks. OPELIKA, Ala., October 6.—[Special.]—Sat-irday, Mr. B. K. Collier and associates made urday, Mr. B. K. CONFUSION IN COURT.

A Spat Between Mr. O'Brien and the Crown's Counsel.

DUBLIN, October 6.—The magistrate's court at Tipperary, before which the case of Dillon, O'Brien and a number of other defendants charged with conspiracy, is being heard, reconvened this morning. All the accused, with the exception of O'Mahony, who is ill, were present, but their counsel—Redmond and Timothy Healy—were absent in consequence of an important engagement, which demanded of an important engagement, which de their attention elsewhere.

On behalf of O'Mahony, Mr. Dillion produced certificates from two Clonmel doctors, stating that he was seriously ill and that t was impossible for him to attend the trial.

Mr. Ronan, prosecutor for the crown, objected to the certificates as not being a valid excuse for O'Mahony's absence, and insisted that the doctors be summoned by the court to testify as to their patient's condition.

Mr. Dillon said that the doctor's certificate would have to be accepted as evidence that Mr. O'Mahony was in no condition to appear before the court, as the doctors themselves distinctly refused to come to the court to substantiate the statements they had already made in their certificate.

Mr. Ronan then asked the court to adjourn for an hour to enable the crown to decide whether the charge against O'Mahony would be withdrawn or application made for a warrant for his arrest.

Mr. O'Brien was not pleased with the prospect for adjourning the case for an hour, and he, therefore, asked Mr. Ronan: "Can you not decide this matter in half an hour and not keep us fooling around here?"

The court granted the request of Mr. Ronan, and adjournment was taken for an hour.
Upon the reassembling of court, Mr. Ronan stated that the prosecution had telegraphed to two doctors in Clonmel, requesting them to examine O'Mahony, and had sent a third from Tipperary to visit and examine the defendant. He expected that the doctors would appear in court later and testify as to O'Mahon y's condition, and he, therefore, asked the court of take a further adjournment. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Ronan said that O'Mahony, through his solicitor, had placed the court at defiance.

This remark excited the indignation of Mr. Dillon, who declared it untrue. He further

This remark excited the indignation of Mr. Dillon, who declared it untrue. He further said that he had done his best to procure the attendance of O'Mahony's doctors in court. Mr. O'Brien said that the defendants had the right to complain against the course of the prosecution. Mr. Roman's remark, he declared, was addressed to an audience in England and was designed to injure the defendants.

land and was designed to injure the defendants.

Mr. O'Brien's remarks were greeted with cries of, "Hear!" "Hear!" by the defendants.

A scene of confusion now occurred. Mr. Ronan repeated his remarks again and again, and Mr. Dillon, who was very angry, loudly denied them. The defendants in the meantime protested against the court taking any further adjournment. He maintained that in justice no warrant could be issued for the arrest of O'Mahony until the court had heard the testimony of his dectors.

After another heated wrangle, the court finally granted Mr. Ronan's request and a further adjournment was taken. The action of the defendants', who are on bail, is likely to result in their committal to Clonmel jail for contempt of court.

MUSCOGEE ALLIANCE.

IT HOLDS AN IMPORTANT MEETING

IN COLUMBUS, And Is Addressed by Hon. Charles L. Moses, the Fourth District's Nominee for Congress-Against Gordon.

COLUMBUS, Ga., October 6.-[Special.]-A largely attended meeting of the county alliance was held at the brick schoolhous in Wynnton, and was addressed by Hon. Charles L. Moses, who will represent the fourth Georgia district in the next congress.

AGAIST GORDON. At the business meeting held by the alliance at 10 o'clock the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That this county alliance do not endorse Governor John B. Gordon for United St senator, as he does not propose to represent the principles of our grand organization. Only one vote was cast against the above

The meeting also adopted the following resolution unanimously:

Be it resolved by the Muscogee County Alliance, That we recommend our fellow-member and citi-zen, F. J. Johnson, to the Hon. R. T. Nesbitt for reasons why he should receive the appointment:

Mr. Johnson is a farmer, and has always been a farmer, identified with every interest of agriculture; that he is not a politician, and is a candidate for this office only at the request of his neighbors and the farmers of this county, upon the belief that he may prove himself of service to the farmers through his experience, and for the further reason that he was retained hisher among further reason that no man stands higher among the people of this county, and, lastly, because he is worthy and well qualified to perform the duties of the office.

No other business of importance to the public was transacted by the meeting.

By noon several hundred people had assembled on the grounds, including quite a number of Columbus people. At 12:30 o'clock dinner was announced. By invitation, Colonel G. E. Thomas asked the blessing, after which the crowd turned their attention to the dinner.

This feature was a splendid success, and the general verdict was that the county alliance certainly knew how to get up a good dinner.

After dinner the crowd was invited to hear a peech from Hon. C. L. Moses, democratic nominee for congress from this district. Mr. E. P. Willis introduced Mr. Moses in a few brief, welltimed words, as the democratic standard bearer Mr. Moses spoke for about an hour and a half, discussing the live political issues of the day, in an able and masterly manner. The speech completely captivated the audience, and every one was favorably impressed with Mr. Moses. In con-cluding his speech, Mr. Moses said he would be in Columbus soon, at which time he will discuss the currency question. He will certainly attract a big crowd when he speaks in Columbus.

After Mr. Moses had finished speaking, calls were made for Colonel G. E. Thomas, Jr. The colonel responded in his usual graceful style, confining his remarks mainly to the currency question, and planting himself pretty squarely on the subtreasury plank of the alliance platform. mas spoke for half an hour. Colonel Tho:

This ended the programme, and the crowd dis-persed. Everybody enjoyed the day exceedingly. WILL DO AS HE PROMISED.

Mr. Calvin Announces that He Will Sup port Gordon

Augusta, Ga., October 6 .- [Special.]-It will be remembered that a few days ago the county alliance of Richmond instructed Hon. Martin V. Calvin, the alliance member of the legislature from this county, to vote against Governor Gordon for the senate.

The announcement was received with great deal of interest, from the fact that Mr. Calvin had openly announced, during the campaign for the legislature, that he would vote for Gordon if elected. Indeed, the many friends of the governor in Augusta made this the issue, and received the promise of all the candidates to so vote.

Mr. Calvin announced for Gordon on his return from the alliance convention, after having heard the governor's now famous antisubtreasury speech, therefore committing himself deliberately.

This afternoon he published a card in The Evening News, in which he says that he will stand by his promise. So this sets at rest any further question about Mr. Calvin's position on the senatoaial question.

Mr. Calvin's card reads:

"My line of duty was so clearly mapped out that I did not deem it necessary to give repywed assurances as to what I proposed to do. I neve not been in doubt one moment as to my duty in the premises. It has occurred to me that my constituents ought not to be left to speculate as to rny purpose in this important mat 'r. I stand today exactly where I stood at the time of the democratic

"It is well known that during the primary I declared publicly that if elected I would vote for General Gordon first, last and all the time. I hold that it is a religious duty to obey the instructions given me by the democracy of Richmond county. I shall follow those instructions to the letter.

"It has been suggested that if I pursue this course I will lose the speakership, for which I am a candidate. I would like to be speaker of the next house of representatives, but I will not sacrifice duty for position. I am an allianceman. I am devoted to the order. With all my heart I embrace its splendid declaration of purposses. I am in the order because I believe it capable of great good to the farmers. I am ever ready to comply with the reasonable demands of my brethren, but between the instructions and those formulated by the county alliance, I am in honor bound to abide by the former. I will cheerfully represent the wishes of the democracy of Richmond on this question. Very respectfully, represent the wishes of the democracy of mond on this question. Very respectfully "MARTIN V. enter our solemn protest against such resolution."

What was it Edgewood Alliance protested against? They protested against a non-political body dictating to democratic representatives.
Now, Brother Chupp, remember that at the July meeting, at Lithonia, at which there were five times as many alliancemen present, you ruled that no political action could be taken as long as the resolutions adopted in March were in force.
(They are still in force). You will remember, too, that the county alliance refused to nominate candidates for representatives, or even endorse them.
I stand now, where I did then, opposed to converting the alliance organization into a political body, and more comphatically when that action is dictated from Washington city by influences decidedity objectionable. Edgewood Alliance is opposed to endorsing any person for office, or instructing against any one for office, for the solid reason that the alliance organization is a non-political one, and the honor and integrity of the organization is pickaged to each member "that nothing shall conflict with the freedom of their political (italics my wrecked it will be by such action as was taken by you and your coadjutors.

Let me whisper another thing in your ear, Brother Chupp: Messrs. T. Y. Nash and W. C. Holbrook presented themselves before the democratic voters of the county as democrats, to be voted for at a primary election, ordered by the democratic executive committee. On the day of the election Mr. Nash stated that he would vote as the majority of the democratic voters desired. At the election Mr. Holbrook received 1,006 votes, and Mr. Nash 1,042 votes, The alliance strength is 771. You will perceive then, admitting that they received the full alliance vote, that Mr. Holbrook received 235 and Mr. Nash 271 votes in addition. All the votes were predicated on their democracy.

Brother Chupp, you say that the resolution reflects the sentiment of the county. I deny it and make this proposition to you. Let the democrats of DeKalb be heard Will you join me, not as an allianceman, but as a democrat, in requesting the democratic executive committee to order a primary election to determine this matter.

committee to order a primary election to determine this matter.

Now, Brother Chinp, as to your snearing remarks about my leaving, all I have to say is that I attended the session while the legitimate business of the body was being transacted. When it was converted into a political mass meeting, at which an avowed republican, and a professional politician consumed the time, as an allianceman true to my obligation and the honor and integrity of the organization, I could not take part, but when the hour for my return to the city came, left. Let us call for the primary.

AN EXCITING RIDE.

A Broken Brake and an Frightened Negro Cause the Scare.

The passengers, who came in from the asylum on the 5 o'clock train yesterday evening, were given the most exciting ride ever made on that line.

ing, were given the most exciting ride ever made on that line.

A broken brake and a frightened negro on a loose truck was the cause of the rapid ride.

On the evening before, a freight car was thrown from the track in Powell park and the front truck knecked from under it. The wreck was cleared away yesterday morning, with the exception of the truck, which was placed on the track yesterday evening for the purpose of rolling it down the grade to the city. An impromptu brake was attached and a negro stationed to manage same over the rough places in the road. The passenger train had rolled off and had given the signal for the truck to be sent on when the engineer was forced to run back up the track for the mail, which had accidentally fallen off the car. He had gone about a hundred yands when he was horrified to see the loose truck whizzing around a curve at lightning speed. The brake had broken and the negro had fallen off, while the pounderous wheels were flying as fast as gravity could draw them. He immediately reversed his engine, gave her steam and the race opened in earnest. For a mile excitement was high. The trucks were only a few feet away and flying with the wind. The fireman was shoveling coal, the engineer applying the steam, while the engine was working as a sewing machine. The race was kept up until Fishing creek was reached, when the train shot up the hill toward the city and the truck succumbed to the heavy grade, rolling back and stopping on the bridge. The ride was a wild one, and will not be forgotten soon by those who made it.

SMITHVILLE'S PROTEST Against an Article Criticising the People of the City. SMITHVILLE, Ga., October 6.-[Special.]-A recent issue of The Macon Telegraph, created considerable indignation here by the publica-considerable indignation here by the publication of the following paragraph:

It is by no means certain that the cicrical force of the Southwestern railroad will live in Smithville, even after the headquarters have been removed to that enterprising burg. The probability is that the cicrks will make their homes in Albany, which is but twenty three miles distant, and, in their opinion, a much better place to live. Therefore, the preparations that the Smithvillians have been making to charge city prices for rural cottages and put on metropolitian airs generally, may fail through. The boys, however, say they don't care how high the Smithville-rents may go if they can get to live in Albany. The clerks at Guyton live in Savannah, and the Southwestern boys, who fear the unhealthfulness of Smithville, will-

To this The Lee County News makes the reply following: What could have actuated the "great and good" Telegraph to pen and published the foregoing paragraph we are at a loss to divine. It exhibits a spirit of petty spite, of which we had believed The Telegraph incapable. It had not occurred to us that so big a paper could descend to so little an act.

Surely The Telegraph does not mean to say that any man who has lived in Macon would have anything to fear of the climate of Smithville. A man that is proof against the miasma of the Oemulgee would not hesitate to dwell in the drier atmosphere of Smithville, certainly. If our brother is not joking let him demand of our physicians, or the municipal authorities a mortuary report for the last tweive months.

It is the privilege of the clerks to live at Albany if they prefer; but we should be badly surprised if they find rents as reasonable, or the Flint river air as salubrious as ours.

if they prefer; but we should be badly surprised if they find rents as reasonable, or the Flint river air as salubrious as ours.

We do not believe it is the intention of our people to charge more rent than their houses are worth. The residences being erected by the improvement company are handsome, comfortable and convenient, and will be occupied as rapidly as they are finished, whether the clerical force dwell here or go to Albany.

Smithville is one a rock-bottom boom, and its future would not be affected one lota if the head-quarters of the Southwestern never come here. The origin of the boom antedates the decision of the road to locate its headquarters here, and were that decision revoked or reversed tomorrow the boom would not halt an instant.

We regret very much the unpleasant thrust made by The Telegraph, since our town has always enjoyed the most friendly relations towards the Central City, a market which our merchants have patronized more than liberally for years and years. Again, we know that the zsubscribers of The Telegraph throughout the county will lament in common with us that that paper should find pleasure in making a thrust, the magnitude of which is only measured by its smallness.

"the committee on sewers has been besieged by persons living on the line of the Butler street sewer and the Loyd street sewer. A careful investigation of the situation convinces your committee of the deplorable state of affairs. The sewers demand immediate attention, and it should be given. We have prepared this resolution, which we present:

"Whereas the health of the city along and near the branches into which the Loyd street and Butler street sewers empty, imperatively demands the immediate extension of the sewers to the old city limits on either side of the city, which cau be done at a cost of $80,000, and, whereas, the sewer contractor expresses a willingness to build these sewers to the old city limits, if the present council requests the work, and will recommend future councils to pay therefor.

Mr. Woodward opposed the law vigorously.

Mr. Hirsch opposed the motion to refer.

Mr. B. H. Hill, representing the Young Men's Christian Association, argued for the award.

Mr. Inman favored accepting the award, agreeing to pay $5,000 now and the balance, less the subscriptions, early next year.

Mr. Haas thought that the property owners would pay all but $5,000.

"Jeffersonian" Republicanism. The manifesto of the so-called Jeffersonian democrats, which issues forth from Douglasville, and which we printed yesterday, is worthy the serious attention of all Georgians who respect the integrity of their party and the success of democratic principles. It is part of the blundering movement, to which we called attention the other day, to bend or break the party in the interest of personalism.

It is part of a futile, but deplorable effort to render, not only the machinery of the democratic party, but the very principles of the organization subservient to the whims of a few who would override the many.

This would be unfortunate enough and foolish enough, but the effort goes further and drives deeper than this, and proposes to support a republican candidate nominated by a few irresponsible negroes, rather than vote for the candidate suggested by the farmers and put forth by the democratic party of this district.

This statement is plainly made by the Douglasville gentlemen who have issued their manifesto. "To the Jeffersonian democrats of the fifth congressional district," says the manifesto, "we take this method of announcing that we not support L. F. Livingston, the so-called democratic nominee for congress, but knowing the ability, courage and fidelity of Colonel Will Haight, have decided to support him." There is nothing equivocal about this. These Jeffersonians announce that they will support the republican candidate nominated by a lot of negroes in preference to the democratic candidate; and, feeling that they stand greatly in need of sympathy, they advertise a convention to be held in Atlanta next Saturday.

The reasons that they give for their position are the most remarkable we have ever seen in print. These may be summed up very briefly. They refuse to support Colonel Livingston, the democratic nominee, because (1) he is opposed to Governor Gordon for the senate. 2. He is in favor of the subtreasury scheme. 3. He is the choice of the farmers. Rather than support such a democrat as that the Jeffersonians are free to say that they will vote for an out-and-out republican. Surely, in some strange fit of anger and passion these gentlemen have been led to throw their reason and their judgment to the winds. Colonel Livingston may be opposed to Governor Gordon-he may be in favor of the subtreasury plan-and he may be the choice of the farmers, but he is no less the nominee of the democratic party on this account.

In his race for the party nomination, he made a square-out, an open and a winning fight. He went to the democratic voters with all the issues on which he asked for the nomination. and was successful in driving all opposition from the field. He made a campaign that ought to be and is satisfactory to every just and fair-minded man. There is not a voter in the district but knew, while the campaign was going on, just how and where Colonel Livingston stood. He ran the race as a democrat, but avowed himself, as an allianceman, in favor of the subtreasure scheme, or some other plan which would have at least a tendency to give the farmers of this country the showing that has always been denied them-the same showing that is given to the banks, and other monied corporations, to the monopolies, and, in fact, to all the concerns that have money enough to control the politicians who have charge of the machinery of the government. Further than this, he announced, after his nomination, that, as a matter of course, he would abide the democratic caucus in all things.

It has been found, since the subtreasury scheme was suggested, that other people, who are not alliancemen, have schemes for relief. We have seen, and the readers of THE CONSTITUTION have seen, schemes proposed that are wilder and more undemocratic than the subtreasury plan. Has not Colonel Livingston the same right to favor the alliance plan, open to change and correction, but always keeping the principle of relief in view, as other public men and candidates to favor their recently invented measures?

We have another question to ask these Jeffersonians, that will go at once to the bottom of the whole business, whether they choose to answer it or not. When and in what manner have the alliancenen of Georgia ever made the slightest effort to disturb the harmony of the democratic party on account of their subtreasury plan? There is no record of the democratic state convention met in Atlanta, a few months ago, the alliance democrats, although they had complete control of the body, did not for once suggest the subtreasury scheme, setting an example of conthus servatism that every patriotic democrat in Georgia is personally interested in following. In reply, the Jeffersonians, so-called, will say that the alliance has antagonized distinguished democrats. This is true, but the fact should be borne in mind that distinguished men have antagonized the alliance.

These are matters that cannot be too plainly alluded to. All the trouble comes, not from the alliance nor their subtreaspry scheme, but from bad and injudicious advisers ringing the subtreasury issue into the senatorial race.

And now, following all this, comes the declaration that because the alliance is in favor of the subtreasury scheme, they will support the candidate of the negro party for congress in preference to the democratic candidate, who is in sympathy with the farmers.

We may say here that the farmers of Georgia have as much right and interest in the democratic party as any other class. They have supported the party from first to last, and they are supporting it now. They form the bulk of its voters. Turn them against it and there will be no democratic party left in Georgia worth speaking of. Under these circumstances, when gentlemen claiming to be democrats, declare that they will vote with the negro party rather than for the candidate who is in sympathy with the farmers, they offer an insult to the agricultural class which THE CONSTITUTION and all good democrats must protest against. It is carrying the interests of personalism to a point where they are calculated to disgust the people.

A Lame Defense.

The "colonel" of The New York Mail and Express devotes one of his lurid editorials to THE CONSTITUTION, not forgetting, however, to include a few "rebel brigadiers" in his remarks. He is evidently after another free advertisement, but for this once we shall dismiss him in a few words.

The colonel's anger was aroused by some comments of THE CONSTITUTION on a congratulatory telegram to the negro Langston, now of the house of representatives, which telegram was floating around the country with Elliott F. Shepard's name attached to it. It may be remembered that this telegram advised Langston to "stir up his race in South Carolina and capture the government."

In our comments we said that it was the dream of Shepard's life to see black heels on white necks in the south, and any one who reads his paper must arrive at the same conclusion. But, passing over the abuse in the colonel's defense, which is characteristic and amounts to nothing, we are glad to put him on record as evincing a change of heart. He

But should THE CONSTITUTION'S dream ever come true, of "black heels on white necks," The Mail and Express will be the first to rush to the rescue of the "white necks" and the downing of the "black heels."

He qualifies this, of course, with some further remarks: but we are willing to accept it as an apology for his former rashness in advising the negroes of South Carolina t bestir themselves and capture the government.

The colonel's repentance may come late in life, but there may be hope for him vet. telegram to Langston, we do not see how he can well shirk the responsibility of it by shifting it, in a general way, upon The Mail and Express. The telegram certainly did appear in the press with his signature, and we do not see how he can get around it by this apparent effort to transfer the responsibility in the manner stated. It is understood that he is the editor of The Mail and Express, and as such is, or ought to be, responsible for its actions.

Therefore, whether he wrote the Langston telegram or not, he is bound to get the credit

Cotton Consumption for September. The New York Chronicle's review of the cotton consumption and overland movement for September says that the present crop began to move early, and the movement has been on a liberal scale; as a result the amount of cotton marketed up to the first of October is largely in excess of the movement for the similar period in any previous year. In fact there has come into sight during the month 855,274 bales, or 206,504 bales more than in September of 1889, while compared with 1888 the gain is 431,065 bales, or over 100 per cent. There were exceptional circumstances, however, tending to retard the movement of cotton in 1888-the lateness of the crop, the unwillingness of planters to pay the ruling prices for jute bagging and the yellow fever epidemic. The first two of these causes also operated last season, but to a lesser extent than in the previous year.

The gross rail shipments in September have been 35,546 bales, which compares with 21,619 bales last year and 16,538 bales in 1888, and all the various routes have shared in the increase recorded over last year. The net also exhibits a gain over the corresponding month of 1889, while contrasted with September two years ago the excess reaches

In no previous season, The Chronicle goes on to say, has so great an amount of cotton been received at the outports during the ppening month as in the current year. The nearest approach to the figures now recorded was in 1887, when the total reached 654,776 bales. Making comparison between the years included in our statement we find that 1890 exhibits a gain over 1889 of 170.526 bales, and that contrasted with 1888 the increase is 400,219 bales, or over 120 per cent.

There is one point that the figures bring out very clearly, and that is the improved conditions over 1889, both as regards maturity and yield, in the Atlantic states, for while at all the important ports a larger amount of cotton has been received than in 1889, the ports on the Atlantic seaboard have gained most largely. Foreign exports have reached a very heavy aggregate during the month, exceeding the prehighest total, which such an effort. On the contrary, when that of September last year. Portstocks, as well as those at interior towns, are much ahead of the corresponding date in An Unwise Change.

The action of the council yesterday in asking for an amendment to the city charter so as to permit the mayor, council and aldermen to be elected for two consecutive terms instead of one, as the law now stands, will and ought to meet with strong opposition.

The clause proposed to be amended was inserted in the present charter of our city by a large and intelligent body of citizens, who were appointed to prepare a charter that would correct certain evils that had sprung up in our city government, and this clause covered one of these evils complained of. It has worked well for years and the city has been greatly benefited by its enactment, as every old citizen well knows.

We think it is a mistake to suggest such a sweeping change of a clause that is so liable to be abused, if not guarded. It is all very well if we could always get good men to run for these offices, but it lessens the chances to get such men to be candidates when they know they will be opposed by men who are in office and backed by the official patronage of the

Such a change would be a fruitful source of combinations from one term to another, and would result, as it has in the past, in great dissatisfaction and injury to the city, and will, if granted by the legislature, eventually call for action from our citizens again to reform our city government.

It is a good rule, in regard to our city charter, to let well enough alone. The clause, as it is, has certainly worked well for the city, and while, in the past, a few good citizens may have been ineligible to hold office for more than one term, we have always been able to get others to supply their places, without manifest inconvenience to the city, and certainly without any danger from those disposed to conspire from term to term.

We are well satisfied that the proposed change is too sweeping, and ought not to be made.

GOSSIP OF A DAY.

Who will be sheriff of Fulton county? That question seems just now to be interest ing the people in Atlanta more than the con test over the United States senatorship. It is one week until the primary election which will settle the momentous question, and a lively week it will be. Each day the contes grows hotter, each day the candidates and their friends buckle down closer to the they have in hand, and each day both sides claim everything with the greatest confidence There is a good deal of talk about the con tests for the other offices to be filled, but all of it pales beside that manifested in the fight beween the "old" ticket and the "new" shrievalty contest. The friends of both sides are confident, and it will require the consolidation of next Tuesday's returns to give a sat-Who will be the sheriff of Fulton county?

A goodly number of bets have been made upon this contest, but the most unique that I have heard of was yesterday between two business men who live at the Kimball. By the terms of that bet the loser is to shave the winner in the most approved style, and the performance is to take place in the main corridor of the Kimball, in front of the clerk's desk, and in broad daylight. I have been sworn not to divulge

tion, but from what I know of the tonsorial abilities of the parties I am free to say I had rather lose that bet.

General L. J. Gartrell has, I happen to know, been approached by a numbe of his friends in different parts of the state and has been urged to enter the race tor sena tor. Yesterday several prominent Fulton county farmers, who are prominent alliance nen, were closeted with General Gartrell. They refused to say anything about the confer nce further than that they had asked Genera Gartrell to permit the use of his name in the senatorial contest, and that from the general' eception of them, they had hopes that he night consent. General Gartrell would be as already resched its full limit.

"The only result of that sort of thing," said an old-time politician at the Kimball last night, "will be to swell Colonia Livingston's majority. The funniest thing I heard in all this talk yesterday, was the suggestion that General Gordon might be the "Jeffersonian" candi-date against Colonel Livingston. That suggestion was made by a Markham house politician, and was, of course, promptly laughed down as being preposterous. Which, of course, it is.

Dr. T. H. Huzza, one of Atlanta's brightest young physicians, is just back from New York, and has some interesting things to relate.

"The biggest thing of all the big things I busy scene, the workmen still being engaged on the building. Nearly every room of the offices on the upper floors bore the placard, 'rented.' The knob of each door is a round rented.' The knob of each door a miniature ball with hemispheres on it—a miniature world. The walls are from 20 feet thick at the bottom to 4 feet at the top. The main the bottom to 4 feet at the top. The main the bottom to 4 feet at the top.

stories more. There are 691 steps to climb (I counted them) before you reach the top of this tremendous bell-like crown, and walk out upon a circular platform 5 feet in diameter and 350 feet above the street below. The view is grand—words cannot do it justice. The Tribune building, seven stories high, looks like a doll-house way down below us the people in the streets, like ants, creep about. The dome is covered with sheet copper, which is being gilded. The bril-liant effect of that you can readily imagine. Then I and my companion descended till we reached the basement—of which there are three—where the new presses are being erected and tested. I saw 400 Worlds printed in one minute, not a good day for Worlds either, and they fell so fast the eye could not follow them. From there we went to the resent quarters to see the many immense features, and we completed a four hour's trip that was worth the experience."

To illustrate the immense scale upon which anufacturing of all kinds is carried, Dr. Huzza said:

"At one place I saw a dozen 400 yards long and forty inches wide capcine plasters rolled off before you could say "scat." In the next before you could say room they were washing three or four bales of Georgia cotton at one time in an immense vat. It was then turned into a big copper tub, which was made to revolve 800 times a minute and in a short space of three times sixty seconds, it was turned out dry. It was the ginned again, carded, rolled and behold! it was "absorbent cotton."

One firm had a vault containing 307,000 ounces of quinine and 400,000 gailons of fluid extracts down stairs, and a small matter of 16,000,000 pills off in one corner."

There are many things to surprise a 'way have to keep your eye open on all sides," he continued. "It is a little startling to see soda water flavoring syrup, shaved ice and cream all drawn from one faucet into a glass at once and handed to you in a jiffy. The only way to do is to accept everything as a matter of course, and that's what I did."

A Mysterious Letter Asking for Information About Mr. Wilkinson's Habits and Business.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., October 6 .- [Special] .-The press dispatch from New Orleans, reporting the alleged breaking off of the engagement between Miss Winnie Davis and Alfred Wilkinson, of this city, created no end of excitement among Syracuse society people. Mr. Alfred Wilkinson is out of town,

DR. EMORY SPEAKS. Dr. Thomas Emory, son of General Emory at whose house Miss Davis was a guest when she first met Mr. Wilkinson, said that he had no definite information regarding the report that the engagement had been broken, but that he did not believe it was true. He said that, as far as a reported postponement was concerned, he knew that no time had ever been fixed for the wedding.

NOT UNTIL NEXT JUNE. "There has been a report," he said, "that the wedding had been postponed from September to next June, but I don't believe Miss Davis ever intended to marry earlier than that any way. She would not marry pefore then out of respect to her father's memory. As a matter of fact, Mr. Wilkinson did not suffer any considerable loss in the burning of the family home."

Another friend of the Wilkinson family said, that in all probability, there was 'not a word of truth in the report, and that he was at the house last night, and understood that preparations were going on for the wedding.

THE NON-COMMUNICATIVE SISTER. When a reporter called at the Wilkinson home, in the Dillac block, he was told that Alfred Wilkinson was not in. His sister was seen, and was asked whether there was any truth in the dispatch from New Orleans, Without asking for the details of the dispatch, Miss Wilkinson said:

"That is entirely a private matter. It is nothing for the public to know about any way.

Miss Wilkinson declined to deny or affirm the report about the engagement being severed. A MYSTERIOUS LETTER.

About the time of Miss Davis's return from Europe a gentleman in this city received a request for certain information concerning Alfred Wilkinson and his family The request came from a point hundreds of miles from Syracuse. The person of whom the inquiry was made understood that it had something to do with Mr. Wilkinson's relations with Miss Davis, and he answered it at length. The points touched upon by the inquirer related to Mr. Wilkinson's habits, associations, his standing in his profession, his income, etc.

THE FAILURE INQUIRED INTO The failure of Wilkinson & Co., was particularly inquired into. The inquirer wanted to know how the Wilkinsons stood before the failure, and how that event was regarded by the community. He asked for complete information concerning the transfor by members of the firm of certain property before they assigned, the subsequent efforts of creditors to realize on that property, as to what proportion of the firm's debts had been paid, and how the family of which Alfred is a member, had been supported since the failure.

There was an interesting and important meeting of the King's Daughters at the hospital yesterday. Mrs. William King presided, and there was a large attendance of members of the different bands.

During the summer months, the work has been carried on under a good many disadvantages, but donations from the Georgia Ice Company of ice, and from other sources of milk, fruit, vegetables, etc, have helped greatly. It was announced yesterday that the society has paid the last debt it an announcement which was received

GRIFFIN, Ga., October 6.-[Special.]-A quiet and unlooked for marriage occurred at the residence of Mr. W. R. Hanlieter tonight at 7 o'clock. The contracting parties were Mr. William H. Brewer and Mrs. Hattle Bloodworth, Rev. M. McN. McKay officiating.

Mr. Brewer is a member of the prosperous firm of Brewer & Hanlieter, wholesale grocery and guano merchants, and is well identified with the interests of the city.

Mrs. Bloodworth, the bride, is an estimable lady, vell calculated to adorn the beattiful home Mr.

Brewer has prepared for her. Both bride and groom are to be congratulated. The Heroism of Our Good Southern Blood. There is no better illustration of the noble spirit of our southern girls than Miss Ida Stokes, mention of whom has been made in connection with the recent wedding of a bride whose entire with the recent wedding of a bride whose entire trousseau she fashioned. She is a very pretty and refined young lady, whose grandmother, Mrs. Posey, gave $16,000 to Mercer university, and whose father lived a long time on his plantation, and still owns it. He has for years made his home in Atlanta, giving education to his daughters, and bringing them up after the old time manner of domestic care. This daughter, the oldest and a lovely girl, though kindly anrured by her loving parents, has had a spirit of independence and capacity that has prompted her to make a test of her business qualities, and even make a test of her business qualities, and even against parental wish try her hand in dress makings as field for the exercise of her energy and taste. Her success has been remarkable. She can desige exquisite costumes, and no one would imagin this pretry young maiden to be the skilled mistress and manager of a calling that requires so many endowments. The famous Worth is an artist in making female attire, that daintlest of vocations, and our sweet Atlanta lassie, with no necessity for it, will rival the Frenchman in her rare work. What cannot our glorious southern girls do, and this without departure from their social pre-eminence. Such representatives of our best womahood deserve as they command a universal respect and affection.

The Weman's Christian Association! The very name is suggestive of the work done by these devoted women.

THE HEFLIN CASE.

The Closing Arguments to be Made This Morning.

M. R. Heflin is still on trial for perjury.

For nearly a week this case has been going on in the criminal branch of Fulton superior The evidence for the defense was concluded yesterday morning.

Mr. Frank Arnold, for the defense, opened the argument with a speech in which he rehearsed the evidence from beginning to end.
Following him, Mr. John Clay Smith, also for the defense, spoke for one hour, but in the midst of his speech, he—having been ill for several days—felt that he could not do justice to his client without an opportunity to rest.

Judge Richard H. Clark, the presiding judge, took a recess until this morning at 9 o'clock, when the argument for the defense will be concluded by Mr. Smith.

Heffin's two children—bright little girls—have sat by him through the long, tedious process of the trial, and their bright faces have illumined the darkness and monotonous dearth of the court room during the trial.

They are, nevertheless, as they sit there, day after day, with their tender arms entwined around the neck of their father, against whom public opinion has been so bitter a sight that might soften the heart of the sternest advocate of law and justice.

COAL! COAL! COAL!

WHERE IT COMES FROM AND WHAT

A Dealer Who Has a Word to Say About the Slackness of the Railwey Facilities Afforded the Coal Trade.

"Do I think there is any probability of a coal famine? Well, to be frank, I do think there is such a probability." A well-known coal dealer was the speaker,

"That is," he continued, "if we should have a sudden and prolonged cold snap. At present the supply of coal actually on hand ready for delivery to the consumer is small-not extra-ordinarily small, but not adequate to supply any rush or heavy demand?

The coal man was asked what he thought the cause of the present low supply on hand

"It is due to the railroads, principally," he said. "All the roads that, haul Atlanta's coal supply are behind with their cool busi-Especially is this the case on the East Tennessee road which hauls more coal into Atlanta than any, yes, I may say, all of the other roads combined."
"How do you account for this?"

"In several ways. Generally, the reason the reads are slow in moving coal shipments, is that they are just at this season of the year engaged in handling the cotton crop. Then there is a heavy business in other freights, and it keeps the road hustling to keep up, at least this is the excuse they give when we get after them for delay in our ship-

"How about the mines?" "They are all right. There is no trouble in getting the coal out. There is plenty of it to be had if the railroads could handle it, as I

"And the prices?"

"Since the 20th of August coal has been selling at an advance of price

-50 cents on the ton. Retail prices have prevailed since that time, the scant supply preventing the dealers from allowing any reduction on large orders. Upto the middle of August the best grade of coal was selling at $4.50 a ton. Since then the same coal has been held at $5 and the outlook is that it will stay there for awhile anyhow, if it den't go on up.
"Jelico, Glen Mary, Coal Creek, Poplar

Creek, and coals like that sell at $5 a ton, while Montevallo brings $6, it being regarded as the be had. Only one dealer in best article to town has been able to get any Montevalle, so far, however.

"Steam coal up to a few days ago was priced at $2.25 per ton. It is possible that this quality may go up in price 25 cents on the ton, or such a figure."

"Where does Atlanta's coal come from?" "Where does it come from? Well, all the best coal but one grade comes from Tennessee, the exception being Montevallo, which is dug in Alabama, near Birmingham. Jelico, Coal Creek and Poplar Creek come from Tennessee, above Knoxville. Glen Mary comes from above Chattanooga, on the Cincinnati Southern. Steam coal comes from the same mines, only it is of an inferior quality. The East Tennessee, the Western and Atlantie and the Georgia Pacific railroads bring all our coal to Atlanta. It's a big business to them, but you'd hardly think it, the way they treat us dealers sometimes in the way of transportation."

"How much coal does Atlanta consume on an average?"

"That's a hard question to answer. It has been estimated though that in cold weather consume 300 carloads a day of domestic and steam coal com-bined. Of course, the consumption depends, to a large degree, upon the character of the weather. I think a yearly average would show about half that much, probably more or less. One dealer alone has a standing order for 200 cars per month. Often this is largely increased. More steam coal than domestic coal is used, which goes to show what our manufacturers are doing.

"We dealers are very much at the mercy of the railroads and the miner. The miner regu lates the price, and the railroads control them

THE W. AND A. LEASE.

COLONEL THOMAS, OF THE NASH-VILLE AND CHATTANOOGA, HERE.

He Comes to Look Into the Condition of the Road—The Lense to Take Effect on December 27th.

Colonel Thomas, president of the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad company, was in Atlauta yesterday, to transact som business for his road. He came to look into the workings of the Western and Atlantic, concerning the lease of this road by his company, which will take effect in the near future. Colonel Thomas was asked about the purpose of his visit and said: "I have come to investigate the details of the management of the State road, to note the condition of the road in every particular and especially the condition of the rolling stock. I shall spend the day investigating the needs of the road, and visiting the different offices in Atlanta, and will leave tonight for Chatta

When will your company take charge of the State road?"

"According to the lease we will take charge on the 27th day of December, and not until then will our control be felt in the management, though it was a rumor for awhile after the purchase that we would make an informal transfer of possession before that time."
"How do you find the condition of the road ?" "Well, the rolling stock is in a mighty bad condition. The needs of the road in this line are surely very great, though I don't know to what extent just yet we will have to supply new rolling stock. I cannot judge of the condition of the road bed for I have had no occasion to inspect it yet. I came over the road last night, arriving in Atlanta this morning 6 o'clock, and thus you see I had no chance to observe any of its needs."

"Will your road equip the Western and At-lantic with every thing needed?" "Yes, we will have it put in good condition and that is really the purpose of my visit here. The officers are preparing a full report of the condition of the road, and will forward it to me in Nashville at an early date, and we will go to work at once supplying the road with with good equipments."

Colonel Thomas left Atlanta last evening at 6 o'clock. What is sweeter than roses
That bloom in the beauty of June?
Or the stately and fragrant lilies
Whose bells ring a summer tune?

Ah, sweeter the roses blowing
On the cheeks of those we love,
And the lily of health that's glowing
The cheek's red rose above. And the his of health that's glowing
The cheek's red rose above.
But how soon the lily and the rose wither in the faces of our American women. Why is it? Simply because so many of them are victims of weaknesses, irregularities and functional derangements incidental to the sex. If they would use Dr.
Plerce's Favorite Prescription all these beauty and health-destroying ailments might be warded off, and we would hear less about women "growing old before their time."

FIELD DAY SPORTS

WILL CARRY THE PEOPLE TO PIED-MONT PARK TODAY.

An Attractive Entertainment on the Field and Track-The Athletes Are in Fine Trim-Music and Merriment.

The field day sports will surely take place today at Piedmont park, and will doubtless be witnessed by several thousand people.

The games were to have been held last Thursday, but owing to the bad condition of the track they were postponed until today.

The track is in excellent condition now, having been rolled and packed almost to the trim of a perfect einder path. The sports will begin promptly at 2 o'clock and will last all the afternoon. At 1 o'clock today the Zouave band will parade Marietta,

Decatur and Whitehall streets, with an open air concert, announcing the occasion, and promptly at 2 o'clock the nimble athletes, clad in tights of variegated hues, will appear before the spectators on the Olympian field The events have leen arranged by Professor Whitman as follows:

sack race, running broad jump.

The athletes were never in better condition, and the contests in these games will be close and exciting.

Tonight the medals and prizes will be awarded to the victorious athletes down at the gymnasium. All the friends of the athletes are cordially invited to be present, and a special invitation is extended to the ladies by Professor Whitman.

There will be some rare fun on the field and track at Piedmont park today, and all lovers of athletic sports should be in the grand

IRREGULAR RETURNS

That May Interfere with the Organization of the Legislature. Secretary of state, General Cook, gives notice that a number of returns have been made irregular; and this may seriously interfere with the organization of the legislature.

The law governing the making of returns is found in the constitution of the state. The returns of the election for governor and statehouse officers are directed to the president of the senate and the speaker of the house, n care of the secretary of state. These returns are not opened until the second day after the organization of the general assembly.

The returns of the election for members of the general assembly are directed to the secretary of state. He opens these as soon as they arrive, and furnishes the governor a list of the members-elect.

The trouble is that in many instances the two returns have been put in one envelope, directed either to the president of the senate and speaker of the house, or to the secretary

In event the returns of the election for members of the legislature are directed to the presiding officers of the two houses, the secretary of state has no right to open them; and cannot therefore certify to the governor as to who was elected in that county.

New, members-elect whose names are not on that list cannot vote in the organization of the general assembly.

General Cook furnishes this list of counties where the returns are made irregularly: Bar tow. Berrien. Bibb. A SPIRIT OF EMULATION.

Major Toon Makes Some Suggestions in Regard to State Societies.

Shall there be a Society day At the Piedmont exxposition?

Since the last exposition the Virginia, the South Carolina, the Tennessee, and the Northern societies have been organized in the city. The outlook is that there will be many visitors from the sections whence came the members of these several societies, and it has been suggested that it would be the proper thing to set apart a day for their organizations, when they may entertain the visitors from their old

Tonight the Tennesseans hold one of their rousing meetings at their hall, No. 91 East Alabama street, the programme of which will be recitations from younger members and reminiscences from the elder ones.

"Jimmie Jones and James K Polk, '41 to '44" will be one of the most interesting topics

Speaking of the spirit of emulation yesterday, Colonel J. J. Toon, historian of the Tennessees, said:

"The spirit of emulation in its highly com-mendable work, seems not to be confined to mendable work, seems not to be confined to schools, colleges, business men, professionals, or to any single class of our people, but rather claims a wider and broader range for the exercise of its benificent features. This is wise and well, and will surely work out grand results. With such organizations as have already been perfected and others under consideration, there can be little room to doubt that visitors from our and oversy section of the eration, there can be little room to doubt, that visitors from any and every section of the country, to attend the approaching Piedmont exposition will receive a cordial—a very hearty greeting—an old-fashioned shake from the warm hands of the members of these clubs and societies. It is safe to predict that the Northern Society will be on the alert, and that they will extend such courtesies to their visiting friends as may be becoming, and that the state associations will not be lacking in such attentions. Indications are bright for a large attendance from the states of Alabama, Tennessee, South Carolina, and neighboring states."

"Tennessee furnishes an exhibit, does it not?"

"Yes, Giles county, Tennessee, will have a fine exhibit of its resources at the exposition. The attendance from the state will be large, very large. We have committees on courtesies and on hospitality, and I hope that our society will take the proper steps to give every Tennessean an especially warm greeting who comes to the big show. There is no patent right or revenue tax on patriotism, and I think that on this occasion every organization in the city should see to it that the visitors go away with newly revealed ideas of the glory of Atlanta hospitality."

"If the Tennesseans begin, the others will follow, of course, and we can make this a feature of welcoming that has never been inaugurated in any southern city heretofore."

Contagious Blood Diseases.

Contagious Blood Diseases.

Contagious Blood Diseases.

The horror of blood diseases is the fact that they are contagious. Eczema, Saltrheum-Itch, and other skin diseases may be contracted by using the same towel, and thus it frequently happens a whole family becomes affected with the disease some member has contracted elsewhere. It is obviously the sacred duty of any one who suffers from a blood disease to rid their system of the impurity. This can be easily and quickly done by using Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla, the only perfectly safe and complete blood purifier in the world. Its virture is exclusively its, own, and no other medicine can compare with it in strength or efficacy. Any druggist will get it for you. Take no other. Observe its size and test its virtue.—Washington Observer.

THE JAIL MATTER. A Clear Vindication of Colonel Thom

Charge of It. The following correspondence will explain itself:

COLONEL THOMAS TO JUDGE HOPKINS.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 6.—Judge John L. Hopkins. Dear Sir: I respectfully call your attention to an article in The Constitution of the 5th instant, signed "Fulton County," emanating, ho doubt, from one of the Morrow ticket for sheriff, in which appears quotations from an article of yours in reference to jails and jail management, these vices so, foreibly expressed being at that time endorsed by the grand jury, then in session, as well as by all good citizens. If I mistake not, your able article first appeared in The Constitution of June 20, 1889, and was not intended to refer especially to the management of condition of Fulton county jail, but to jails generally ever the state of Georgia. You took occasion then to say that you did not intend any reflection on the management of this jail, but spoke of the officers connected therewith in terms of high esteem. The main points in the article referred to being to condemn in strong terms the custom of crowding these prisons, totally unfit, as most of them are, for the accommodation of prisoners, Inform me if I was correct, and oblige. Respectfully,

L. P. Thomas, Sheriff, COLONEL THOMAS TO JUDGE HOPKINS

Respectfully, L. P. Thomas, Sheriff,

Judge Hopkins's Reply.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 6.—Colonel L. P. Thomas. Dear Sir.—I have your note of this date. The communication you refer to as having been written by me, was published in the ATLANTA CONSTITUTION June 29, 1889. The first paragraph in it was in these words:

"Recent publications about Fulton county jail should result in good. I know nothing, except from others, of the condition of that particular prison. In the absence of strong proof to the contrary, I should believe that the gentlemen in charge of it had done the best they could to keep it in good order. Their well-known characters give assur nee of that. But the general subject needs attention."

My object in writing was to call attention to the general subject, and my remarks had reference to the average county jail in this state. It was not my purpose to reflect on your management of the Futton county jail. Of my own knowledge I knew nothing about that. I knew the gentlemen who had charge of it. I had confidence in their ability, and particularly in their humanity, and hence I stated that in the absence of strong proof to the contrary I should believe that those gentlemen had done the best they could to keep it in good order. I never should have written those words of commendation, if I had not believed them to be true. Any attempt to condemn your management by what I then wrote is unjust. I think the grand jury kindly referred to what I had written only because it bore upon the general subject of the treatment of prisoners. You will perceive by careful examination of my article, that I based my assault on the jail system of the state, upon information derived from records in the executive office. In the article I used this language:

"If the testimony which has been spread before the world be not a mistake the average jail in language:

"If the testimony which has been spread before language:
"If the testimony which has been spread before the world be not a mistake, the average jall in this state is a house of death. Authentic records in the executive office will prove it, and the good man who now occupies that office has solemnly called legislative attention to the enormities that exist." And again I said, "From the testimony before me I do not doubt that the condition of penitentiary convicts who are undergoing punishment for crime, is vastly better than that of unconvicted prisoners in the average county jail."
I hoped that by calling public attention to our prison system, the legislature would take some steps to improve it. The claims of himmity demanded then, and they demand now, that changes should be made. I thought then, and I think now, that the reform should begin with the laws themselves. In other words, that a good prison system faithfully carried out, constituted the measure of duty to prisoners.
In conclusion, it is proper to state, that this re-prison system faithfully carried out, constituted the measure of duty to prisoners.

In conclusion, it is proper to state, that this reply to your letter is not to be construed as an interference in the present canvass for sheriff. I have not taken sides in the contest. I write as a simple act of justice to yourself and your associates. If I believed, which I certainly do not, that you or your associates were capable of wilfully and intentionally mistreating prisoners, I would do everything in my power to defeat your received. Yours truly, JNO. L. HOPKINS.

In replying to that part of the article in reference to the feeding of the prisoners, all I have to say is that under contract with the United States government, and under in-reference to the feeding of the prisoners, all I have to say is that under contract with the United States government, and under instructions from the county commissioners, I am feeding them well according to contract. The United States prisoners are fed just as the state prisoners are fed, and I hear of no complaint from either the jail examiners of the government, or from the county commissioners; nor was there fany complaint by them at the time the grand jury presentments were made. The only difficulity I have ever had is to convince some people with sickly, sentimental ideas, that murderers, burglars and the like, cannot expect to have furnished them bouquets of flowers and such dainties, "nickknacks" as may be found in first-class boarding houses. The truth of the whole matter can be found in the fact that our jail, built to accommodate prisoners, when the population of our city reached 30,000 people, must still be used until a larger one is built—one that will be amply sufficient for a city of ninety or one hundred thousand. But to remedy this difficulty as far as possible, I have gone to great expense and built, without one dollar's expense to the county, an annex to the jail for United States prisoners where they are now confined. This was done under the advice of the prisoners where they are now confined. This was done under the advice of the United States surgeon and the county com-missioners. Since that time I have been en-abled to care for the prisoners—as far as vent-ilation and room are concerned—in a much ilation and room are concerned—in a much more satisfactory way.

I deeply regret that the party signing himself "Fulton County"—a pretty big fellow, to be sure, and one of the to-Morrow ticket, no doubt, forgets that our respected, departed deputy, C. C. Green, the father of Mr. W. D. Green, now on the Morrow ticket for sheriff, was, at the very time these grand jury presentments were made, a deputy and jaller. It is known to all the community that he had personal supervision of this jail daily, and though his son and coadjutors are trying to condemn his administration as cruel and harsh to prisoners, I here affirm with all the emphasis I can that I found him at all times humane to prisoners and watchful for their emphasis I can that I found him at all times humane to prisoners and watchful for their comfort. There was hardly a day during his watchful care of the inmates of this jail that he did not hand me the morning report from the jail, and advise with me in the management thereof. Shame, shame that any one, be he son, friend or foe, that would rise up at this time and try to besmirch his good name. Again I repeat it, that any one who will compare the jail, under the management and care of this humane officer, to a Siberian pen, is not worthy the respect of our citizens.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES. The Survivors Preparing to Pay Tribute to Those Who Died For Dixie.

They died for Dixie!
Those who sleep beneath the sod in Oak-

For the most part their ragged jackets of gray were shrouds and winding sheets in those dark days that are but a memory.

But in the hearts of their comrades they live in fondest recollections, and as the years go by their privations and sufferings, their deeds of daring and their patriotic devotion For this reason one of the most solemnly beautiful exercises that belong to the many testimonials that have been instituted to perpetuate their memories, is the annual me-morial exercises conducted by the surviving veterans of the war.

Last evening the executive committee of the Fulton County Confederate Veterans' Association met at Veterans' hall, on South Broad street, for the purpose of formulating a programme for the coming exercises.
Sunday, October 19th, was selected as the day for holding the exercises, and a programme was outlined which will be published as soon mas outlined which will be published as soon as the details are arranged.

The exercises will be conducted at the First Baptist church, and will be of surpassing interest not only to the veterans, but to the public at large who will be pleased to witness the manner in which the survivors commemorate the heroic deeds of their comrades.

The Indian Village to Be Pitched on the Exposition Grounds—Exhibitors Com-ing in Every Day.

The exhibitors at the exposition have no time to lose in putting in their displays.

The opening day is fast drawing near, and by a special order from the managers, it is necessary that every exhibit should be in its place by the time for the gates to be thrown open. Many exhibitors have already come, and are at work in the building. Others will be coming in for the next ten days, and things will look livelier on the grounds every day until the exposition opens. Every exhibitor is urged to hurry his display to the grounds, and get it in shape at once.

The exhibits this year are more varied and nore extensive than ever before, and the main building will especially offer a scene of daz-zling beauty. It will be a world within itself.

Pawnee Bill Coming. The great wild west show will soon be in Atlanta. Pawnee Bill has written President Wylie that he will leave Woodstock, Va., on the 10th instant, and will be in Atlanta with his Indians, cowboys and horses next Sunday. He says the show was never so good as now and that it has won golden opinions in every northern city where he has taken it this Next Sunday the tented village of the westerners will adorn the exposition grounds with its many little canvas-covered homes, and the red men will be turned loose in Atlanta's streets. Stables for more than twentyfive Mexican ponies are being arranged to accommodate the steeds of the warriors, and everything will be ready to give Pawnee Bill

In these cars will be specimens of iron, gold and silver ores, agricultural products, and many wonderfu displays, setting forth the advantages of this road and the rich country it traverses. The exhibit will be an exposition on a small scale

Season Tickets.

La Those desiring season tickets should apply at the exposition office for them as early as possible.

The stockholders can secure them for $3 and should lose no time in applying for them. After the exposition opens the office will be moved in the grounds and it is to the advantage of stockholders to get their tickets before that time. The Directors' Meeting.

Tonight, at 7 o'clock, the directors of the exposition will meet in the office of the company, at 381 South Broad street. Some important business will come up for settlement, and President Wylie urges the necessity of a full meeting of the board. Things are being shaped for the grand opening day, and the full programme must be made out and turned over to Colonel Milledge, who has been chosen marshal of the day. Let every director come out tonight.

The most generally useful medicine is Ayer's Pills. As a remedy for the various diseases of the stomach, liver, and bowels, these Pills have no equal. Their sugar-coating causes them not only to be easy and pleasant to take, but preserves their medicinal integrity in all climates and for any reasonable length of time. The best family medicine, Ayer's Pills are, also, unsurpassed for the use of travelers addient all lengths. for the use of travelers, soldiers, sallors, campers, and pioneers. In some of the most critical cases, when all other remedies have failed, prove effective.

"In the summer of 1864 I was sent to the Annapolis hespital, suffering with chronic diarrhea. While there, I became so reduced the summer of the summer diarrhea. While there, I became so reduced in strength that I could not speak and was compelled to write everything I wanted to say. I was then having some 25 or 30 stools per day. The doctors ordered a medicine that I was satisfied would be of no benefit to me. I did not take it, but persuaded my nurse to get me some of Dr. Ayer's Pills. About two o'clock in the afternoon I took six of these pills, and by midnight began to feel better. In the morning the doctors came again, and after deciding that my symptoms were more favorable, gave me a different medicine, which I did not use, but took four more of the pills instead. The next day the doctors came to see me, and thought I was doing nicely, (and so did I). I then took one pill a day for a week. At the end of that time, I considered myself cured and that Ayer's Pills had saved my life. I was then weak, but had no return of the disease, and gained in strength as fast as could be expected."—F. C. Luce, Late Lieut. 56th Regt. Mass. Vol. Infantry.

"Ayer's Pills are

I have ever used for headaches, and they act like a charm in relieving any disagreeable sensation in the stomach after eating."

— Mrs. M. J. Ferguson, Pullens, Va.

"I was a sufferer for years from dyspepsia and liver troubles, and found no permanent relief until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills. They have effected a complete cure."—George W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions. CHICAGO, October 6-Wheat-Trading active, and a large speculative business was transacted within a higher range of prices. The opening was A@Ac higher for December, while May opened about the same as it closed Saturday, and after considerable irregularity advanced 13/c, eased off and closed about 13/c higher than Saturday. The advancing tendency of the market was partially a continuation of the firmness developed Saturday, though assisted some by reported export purchases at the seaboard and here. The short nterest was rather anxious to cover, and speculative offerings were only moderate.

Corn was active and a little unsettled, though prices on the whole ruled stronger, and closed with a gain of %@%c, due principally to heavy pur-chases by large local traders. Oats were active, stronger and higher. Mess pork- A little more business was transacted. The opening sales were at 10@12c advance, but quickly settled back 2½@5c, then suddenly rallied 10@15c, receded again 10@12½c, advanced 2½@5c and closed steady.

Lard—Trading was moderate. Early prices ruled 5c higher, but later prices receded to medium figures and closed steady. Short ribs—Quite a good business was trans-acted. Prices ruled 5c higher, and the apprecia-

NEWS OF INTEREST TAKEN FROM

OUR EXCHANGES. An Oyster Canning Factory in Brunswick The Farmers of Henry County-

Charged with Illicit Distilling.

—There was a light famine in Americus on Saturday night. The electric lights failed, leav-ing the streets in darkness and the electric cars without motive power. The gas also gave out, and for more than an hour the city was in dark-ness, and all business suspended.

—At a negro frolic in Americus, on Saturday night, Bill Wilson was knocked on the head with a loaded cane, in the hands of Bill Brown. Wilson was thought to be dead, and Brown and his companions secreted his body in a freight car, hoping it would be carried out of the city before morning The police heard of the row, arrested Bill Brown and lodged him in jall, and after a tedious search found Wilson where he had been secreted, and carried him home still in an unconscious con-

__J. M. Williams, a white man, was arrested — J. M. Williams, a white man, was arresed in Brunswick Saturday night, on a charge of burglary. Williams, who is a young man, thirty years of age, broke into Mr. W. H. Robinson's house, at 'Jo slyn, on the Savannah, Florida and Western railway, early Friday morning, during Mr. Robinson's absence, and stole $230 from the bureau drawer in that gentleman's bed chamber. -The oyster canning factory of M. M. Bush & Bro., of Brunswick, is now operating to its full capacity. Hundreds of small craft loaded with oysters can be seen discharging their cargoes at the company's wharves daily. Forty hands are employed to open the oysters. -The British brig Iddesleigh, which sailed from Rio Grande de Sol for Brunswick six weeks ago, is now a week overdue at the latter port.

-The News and Advertiser says that the country around Albany is all right. The cotton crop is a good deal shorter than last year, and the conditions for gathering it have been unfavorable, but the farmers are coming up and meeting their obligations with satisfactory promptness.

—On November 12th the Thomas county stock breeders will have a stock show and grand country basket picnic, shooting match, tournament, etc., at Paradise park. Thomasville.

-The Times says that the farmers of Henry county are in a better financial condition at pres ent than at any period during the past ten years. -Mr. Henry W. Hoffman, of Savannah, was assaulted on one of the principal streets in the heart of the city, by footpads on Saturday night. Mr. Hoffman was severely beaten, and might have been killed but for the timely arrival of citizens, who heard his cries for help. The highwaymen, who were two burly negroes, made their escape. Robbery is supposed to have incited the attack on Mr. Hoffman.

-The total amount of business done in Augusta for the season of 1880-90, ending September 1st, approximated $70,000,000.

-The Chronicle says that Augusta has twelve large cotton foctories, representing a capital of $6,000,000, employing 4,500 hands, paying $1,000,000 in annual wages, operating 5,419 looms and 213,-114 spindles, spinning 80,000 bales of cotton annu-ally into 87,000,000 yards of cloth and 2,000,000 pounds of yarn, worth in the aggregate over

-Thomasville Times-Enterprise: "W. L. Poe, United States revenue deputy collector, has turned over to Sheriff Hurst for a few day's safe keeping, Joe Worley, a white man, who is charged with illeit distilling. The "moonshine" was made in the mountains of North Carolina, but Worley came to this section, followed by the officer, who finally succeeded in arresting him. He will be carried back to North Carolina." -There were 221 carloads of lumber unloaded at Brunswick last Saturday. There are twenty-two vessels now bound for Brunswick, for lumber

—There are seventeen colored alliances in Putnam county, with a flourishing co-operative store at Eatenton.

-There is but little change in the condition of Mr. W. D. Howren, the evangelist, who is critically ill in Charleston. He has taken neither food nor medicine since last Thursday.

AT THE THEATER.

"Penalty" was the attraction at DeGive's vesterday, and served to introduce as star Miss Ella Wilson, the daughter of Fred Wilson, one of the "oldtimers" on the stage.

That is the father is an old timer—not the

As a play, "Penalty" doesn't deserve serious consideration. It seems to have been written with but two ends in view-to show off an electrocun apparatus, and to allow for the introduction of a lot of specialties.

Miss Wilson, a handsome young woman, is versatile and has undoubted ability. The supporting company is not strong, and outside of Miss Wilson and Mr. Gallagher, the principle interest centers in the electrocution scene. Last night's audience was a good oue, and both Miss Wilson and Mr.

Gallagher were warmly received. "The Gondollers" Tonight.

The first operatic performance of the theatrical season will be given tonight and a novel opera will be the one served. Gilbert and Sullivan have made "The Gondoliers," and this will be certainly the last production of the brilliant partners as since that last common work they have fallen out and are now separated forever. This last effort seems to have been one of the best, and connoisseurs rank it with "The Mikado," and much above "Pinafore." Like 5the first one, it is full of tuneful and catchy airs, which are repeated in the streets the day after its performance in every town. To do justice to "The Gondoliers" a and good company is w

The troupe which will appear in Atlanta tonight is said to possess capable artists and to have given perfect satisfaction everywhere. EThe Charleston and Savannah papers were lawish in their praises of the company, of the brilliant costumes and of the fine scenery, which all be-carloads at great expense.

"The Gondoliers" has not been a success in the south only. Philadelphia, Boston, Cincinnati, have given the most enthusiastic endorsement to the work of Gilbert and Sullivan. The Boston papers thus expressed their appreciation:

"The audience expressed approval in the most enthusiastic manner. * * It will have a long and prosperous run. * * 'The Gondliers' was royally received."—Boston Herald, April 15.

Frank Mayo. This popular actor will personate for us Friday and Saturday his two best characters, "Nordeck" and "Davy Crockett." Both will be great treats, and many will want to see again his "Crockett, of which The Boston Globe said:

"Mr. Mayo's impersonation of the honest back-podsman is decidedly his best character, and woodsman is decidedly his best character, and interprets perfectly the rude manliness and brave generosity implied in the text. It is throughout a chivalrous, noble character. The homely pathos thrown into his avowal of love for Eleanor deserved and won high praise, while his devotion and bravery in withstanding the onset of the hungry wolves were so judiciously managed as to avoid the overacting into which a less accomplished actor would have lapsed."
